Considerations When Entering the AMO Car Show

When registering your car for the AMO Nationals Car Show, especially for the first time, the following information may be worth your consideration. Within the structure of an AMO car show, there are "Categories", "Divisions", and "Classes".

CATEGORIES—If you wish NOT to have your car judged, or in the case that it is not eligible to be judged, your car would be entered to the show in the category of "Display Only". Cars ineligible for judging would include: 1) ancestor cars such as Hudson and Nash (through 1957), 2) early Ramblers through 1957, and 3) former winners of the "American Cup" or the "American Heritage Cup", thus being retired from judging. The registration in "Display Only" has the Exhibition Fee of $20 for AMO members. Without AMO membership, a fee of $15 addition would be required to provide a one-day membership for the day of the show. Display Only cars will be placed on the showfield separately from cars being judged.

In addition to the non-judged "Display Only" category, there are two categories of judged cars. Those categories are: 1) "Stock" as unaltered from the original specifications and accessories as they came from the factory, and 2) "Non-Stock" as permitting alterations from original and non-factory options. "Stock" category cars are judged much more stringently than are "Non-Stock cars when it comes to original specifications and accessories. Having such things as correct wheels and tires, correct voltage regulator, correct radio, etc. all matter in Stock Category judging. Not having such correctness is not an issue for "Non-Stock" cars. All judged cars will require the same $20 Exhibition Fee required of "Display Only" cars. Additionally, Judged cars have the additional Judging Fee of $30. Required regular membership or the one-day temporary membership is also required.

DIVISIONS and CLASSES—AMO Divisions apply only to judged cars, but not to all classes (the Classes are identified in the table above). The Divisions are: 1) Driven Division (driven 750 miles or more per year and having scored less than 190 points while being judged in this Division), 2) Junior Division (having scored less than 190 points while being judged in this Division), and 3) Senior Division (In Senior Division, cars shall be continually eligible for judging unless and until they advance to "American Cup" candidate by earning a "Best of Show" award in a Senior Division Non-Stock Class, or advance to "American Heritage Cup" candidate by earning a "Best of Show" award in a Senior Division Stock Class.

First-time AMO Concours entrants could start in either "Driven Division" or "Junior Division. A score of 190 points in Driven Division would qualify an advance to Junior Division. A score of 190 points in Junior Division would qualify an advance to Senior Division.

DESIRABLE FEATURES OF CONCOURS JUDGING-- Your car is not compared with other cars and then ranked. It is judged using a point system that evaluates your car against a standard. After a period of time following your car evaluation you will have access to your judging score sheet to see where the judges' scoring indicates areas in which you may want to make improvements, if you so desire.
